Pasta and pizza were on everyone's lunch menu in my native land of Italy. Everyone who had such a lunch was fair-skinned and spoke Italian. A few years later, as I stood in the lunch line with my kindergarten class in a school in Brooklyn, I realized things were no longer that simple. My classmates ranged from those kids with pale skin and large blue eyes to those with rich brown skin and dark hair. The food choices were almost as diverse as the students. In front of me was an array of foods I couldn't even name in my native language. Fearing that I would pick out something awful, I desperately tried to ask the boy ahead of me for a recommendation. Unfortunately, between us stood the barrier of language.

Although my kindergarten experience feels like a century ago, the lessons I learned will stick in my mind forever. For the past three summers, I have worked in a government agency in New York. New immigrants much like the little girl in the lunch line flooded our office seeking help. I often had to be an interpreter for the Italian-speaking ones. As I served the role of vital communication link, I was reminded of my desperate struggle to converse before I learned English. I watched with great sympathy as elderly Italians tried to hold a conversation in Italian with people who did not speak the language. It suddenly became very clear to me how lucky I was to be fluent in two languages.

Many people believe that working to the maximum is the secret to success, but research has found that moderation(适度) also gets results on the job.

In a study led by Ellen Langer of Harvard University, researchers asked people to translate sentences into a new a made-up language. Subjects who practiced the language moderately beforehand made fewer errors than those who practiced extensively or not at all. High levels of knowledge can make people too attached to traditional ways of viewing problems across fields the arts, sciences, and politics. High conscientiousness is related to lower job performance, especially in simple jobs where it doesn't pay to be a perfectionist.

How long we stay on the clock and how we spend that time are under careful examination in many workplaces. The young banker who eats lunch at his desk is probably seen as a go-getter, while his colleagues who chat over a relaxed conference-room meal get dirty looks from the corner office. "People from cultures that value relationships more than ours does are shocked by the thought of eating alone in front of a computer", says Art Markman, a professor of psychology at the University of Texas, Austin. Social interaction has been shown to lift mood(情绪) and get people thinking in new directions and in ways that could help improve any post-lunch effort.

Markman also promotes off-task time. "Part of being a good thinker is experiencing things that are seemingly unrelated to what you are working on at the moment but give you fresh ideas about your work," he says. "Also, there is a lot of research showing that a positive mood leads to higher levels of productivity and creativity. So, when people do things to increase their life satisfaction, they also make themselves more effective at work."

7. What does Ellen Langer's study show?

- A. It is worthwhile to be a perfectionist
B. Translation makes people knowledgeable.
C. Simpler jobs require greater caution.
D. Moderate effort produces the best result.

8. The underlined word "go-getter" in paragraph 3 refers to someone Who_____.

- A. is good at handling pressure
B. works hard to become successful
C. a has a natural talent for his job.
D. gets on well with his co-workers

9. What can be inferred from the last paragraph?

- A. A good thinker is able to inspire other people.
B. Experience unrelated to your job is useless.
C. A cheerful mood helps make a creative mind.
D. Focusing on what you do raises productivity.

10. What does the text seem to advocate?

- A. Middle-of-the-road work habits.
B. Balance between work and family.
C. Long-standing cultural traditions.
D. Harmony in the work environment.

【答案】7. D 8. B 9. C 10. A

【解析】

【导语】这是一篇说明文。文章主要介绍了许多人认为工作到最大限度是成功的秘诀，但研究发现，适度的工作也会带来成果。所以要适度工作，工作时要有积极的情绪，这会让自己在工作中更有效率。

【7 题详解】

推理判断题。根据第一段 "Many people believe that working to the maximum is the secret to success, but research has found that moderation(适度) also gets results on the job.(许多人认为工作到最大限度是成功的秘诀，但研究发现，适度的工作也会带来成果。)" 和第二段中 "In a study led by Ellen Langer of Harvard University, researchers asked people to translate sentences into a new a made-up language. Subjects who practiced the language moderately beforehand made fewer errors than those who practiced extensively or not at all.(在哈佛大学 Ellen Langer 领导的一项研究中, 研究人员要求人们将句子翻译成一种新的虚构的语言。那些事先适度练习这门语言的受试者比那些全力练习或根本不练习的受试者犯的错误要少。)”可知, 第一段提出主题, 即适度的工作也会带来成果, 接着第二段作者用 Ellen Langer 的研究来证明这一点, 由此可推知, Ellen Langer 的研究表明适度的努力会产生最好的结果。故选 D。

【8 题详解】

词句猜测题。根据划线单词下文 “while his colleagues who chat over a relaxed conference-room meal get dirty looks from the corner office.(而他那些在会议室吃饭时闲聊的同事们则在角落办公室里得到不屑的目光。)”可知, while 前后是对比关系, 那些在会议室吃饭时闲聊的同事会得到别人不屑的目光, 即被认为不努力工作, 相反, 那些在办公桌前吃饭的年轻银行家可能被视为是一个努力工作以求成功的人, 由此可知, 划线单词 go-getter, 指的是那些努力工作以求成功的人, 故选 B。

【9 题详解】

推理判断题。根据最后一段中 “Also, there is a lot of research showing that a positive mood leads to higher levels of productivity and creativity.(此外, 许多研究表明, 积极的情绪能够提高生产力和创造力。)”可知, 积极的情绪能够提高生产力和创造力, 由此可推知, 愉快的心情有助于创造性思维。故选 C。

【10 题详解】

推理判断题。根据第一段中 “but research has found that moderation(适度) also gets results on the job.(但研究发现, 适度的工作也会带来成果)”和第二段中 “High conscientiousness is related to lower job performance, especially in simple jobs where it doesn't pay to be a perfectionist.(高尽责性与低工作表现有关, 尤其是在简单的工作中, 追求完美并不值得。)”可知, 文章主要介绍研究表明适度的工作也会带来成果, 所以文章提倡适度工作, 即中庸的工作习惯。故选 A。

第二节(共 5 小题;每小题 2 分, 满分 10 分)

根据短文内容, 从短文后的选项选出能填入空白处的最佳选项。选项中有两项为多余选项。

I have a drawer full of letters to Santa. Each year my children would write up their Christmas wish lists. They were polite requests for the latest game or toy. As the children got older, they would give Santa some hints(提示)on where to buy their presents. ____11____

Those letters taught my children a valuable lesson about writing: It has a purpose. Sometimes our purpose is to achieve something; other times it may be to entertain, inform, or persuade. ____12____ And when writing doesn't seem to have any purpose or get any kind of meaningful response, then it can be hard to get excited about doing it.

Christmas is a great time of year for children to communicate with others through writing. When children write for real audiences and real purposes, they can learn to choose their words accordingly. ____13____ You write

“Dear Santa” because you don't know him personally and you want to show him respect.

_____14_____ Texting, online messaging, live chats while playing video games all mean that they are constantly producing written messages. However, because they are usually writing to family and friends, they use informal language most of the time.

There is nothing wrong with this kind of writing. It suits the audience and the purpose and gets the job done.

_____15_____ This type of writing won't be rewarded by the school examiner, nor by a future employer or a potential client. The very best communicators are those who know how to adjust their language to match their audience.

- A. It isn't that these young people can't write.
- B. But it is always purposeful-or at least it should be.
- C. The age of pen-and-paper letter writing may have passed.
- D. As a result, each year they received something they wanted.
- E. You write “Hi Nanna and Pop” because you are close to them.
- F. As technology develops, young people are writing more than they ever have.
- G. But if this is the only kind of writing young people do, it will cause problems.

【答案】11. D 12. B 13. E 14. F 15. G

(你写 “亲爱的圣诞老人” 是因为你不认识他, 你想表达对他的尊重。)” 可知, 空后句和空前句之间是 “理论——实践” 的关系, 由此可推知, 空处也应为具体的实践。结合选项 E “You write “Hi Nanna and Pop” because you are close to them. (你写 “嗨, 奶奶和爸爸”, 因为你和他们很亲近。)” 可知, 符合这一逻辑。而且和空后结构一致。故选 E 项。

【14 题详解】

根据空后 “Texting, online messaging, live chats while playing video games all mean that they are constantly producing written messages. (在玩电子游戏时发短信、在线消息、实时聊天都意味着他们在不断地产生书面信息。)” 可知, 科技的发展让人们的写作变得更普遍。结合选项 F “As technology develops, young people are writing more than they ever have. (随着科技的发展, 年轻人写的东西比以前更多了。)” 可知, 前后语意一致, 符合语境。故选 F 项。

【15 题详解】

47. 阅读下面短文，根据所给情节进行续写，使之构成一个完整的故事。

I needed to do something in my community (社区) in order to complete the community service hours required to graduate from high school. Some of my friends had signed up to spend time at a soup kitchen, so I did, too. It seemed like a good thing to do.

I thought that we would just be passing out dinners to those in need, but I found out we would be doing everything from preparing to serving the dinner. We began preparing the food, from mixing salad dressing to separating frozen meat. Much still needed to be done before dinner was served, but already outside the building many homeless people were gathering. It wasn't until a couple of hours later that we opened the doors and began serving dinner.

As the line of people came toward me, I got a little scared. I'd come face to face with the homeless: How should I act? How would they treat me? Would they hate me for having more than they did? While some of the people looked very friendly, some of them looked so dangerous. I didn't have too much time to worry about it. I was assigned (分配) to serve the salad with the lady next to me. She smiled at me and said if I needed help, she'd be right there, which I found quite comforting.

I had never seen so many people wanting food. They were of all ages and nationalities. Most of them wore clothes that were torn and dirty. Some looked like they had tally given up on life, while others seemed to be making the best of the situation, smiling and joking. Some were better off than others, but they all needed a good meal and a warm place to eat. It saddened me to think of how many people there were who didn't have a place to call home and the only food they got came from a soup kitchen.

Paragraph 1:

As they came in my direction, I put on my brightest and happiest smile.

Paragraph 2:

I was so happy that I had earned my service hours in this way.

【答案】As they came in my direction, I put on my brightest and happiest smile. I wanted to make them know that I was really anxious to help them. To my relief, they smiled politely back at me when they saw my smile, and I could see their exhaustion in their eyes. I wanted to know what they were going through and I was desperate to know what I could do for them. They nodded gratefully as I pushed my spoon into the pot and took a large spoonful and poured it into their bowls.

I was so happy that I had earned my service hours in this way. This experience made me realize that there are so many people in this world who need our help. It also made me realize that our small act of kindness can make them feel warm and make a great difference to them. I will never forget the way they looked at me when they were given food. I am anxious to urge the world to do everything possible to help those in need.
