书面表达

87.Dear Chris,

What you see in the video clip is all true. Technology is indeed everywhere in our life.

Every day, I go to school by subway. I pay the fare with my mobile phone. In my school, every classroom is equipped with a big touch screen, so we don't use blackboards anymore. If I need books for study, I will do shopping online. With a simple click, the books will be delivered to my door the next day. During holidays, my family usually go traveling by high speed train, which carries us to our destinations with speed and comfort.

If you have the chance to come to China, you can see for yourself. You will be amazed by the fact that Chinese people are so at ease with technology.

Best regards,

88. My fellow students,

Recently, some careless behaviors like wasting food and leaving lights on all day long at school have raised our concern, all of which are bad for the environment. To deal with such problems, I'd like to give the following proposals to promote awareness of green living.

Firstly, always turn off the lights in your classroom upon leaving. Secondly, don't order more than you need in the school canteen to save every bit of food. After all, the production of food produces a large amount of greenhouse gases. Thirdly, take reusable water bottles along instead of bottled water to reduce plastic waste.

Small acts can make a big difference. So let's do something to create a beautiful, low carbon campus.

Thank you!
